DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-13 are pending in this application, which is a 371 of PCT/DE3/02429.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1 line 2, the phrase “with a layer of needle-shaped x-ray luminophore” is confusing as to whether it belongs to the substrate or whether it is deposited on the substrate. Clarification and appropriate amendments are requested.

In claim 1 line 4, the phrase “vaporizing an alkali halogenide phase” is deemed vague and confusing as to what said phrase means. Specifically, how can one vaporize a phase? The same issue applies to claims 8-11.

In claim 9, the phrase “claim 1 through 8” is deemed vague and confusing. Applicant is invited to amend the phrase to reflect either singularity or plurality.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1762

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO

02/20868 A1. It should be noted that Fuchs et al. (6,936,304) is being used as a translation.

Fuchs discloses a method of depositing a luminophore layer from a vapor phase on a substrate (col.1 line 61 – col.2 line 8). The precursor can be an alkali halide (col.2 lines 19-24). However, the reference fails to teach vaporizing an alkali halogenide phase with an alkali halogenide.

It is noted that the reference clearly teaches of using an alkali halide. One skilled in the art would realize that if more precursor is required, one could utilize two source materials of the same material. To utilize more than one source would have been obvious as it is well settled that the mere duplication of parts has no patentable significance unless a new and unexpected result is produced.

The limitations of claims 2-13 have been addressed above.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686

Art Unit: 1762

F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-13 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-16 of U.S. Patent No. 6,936,304.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the elimination of a polishing agent is an obvious variation.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,720,026.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the use of a luminophore is an obvious variation.
